WHO'S WHO

IN

AMERICAN SPORTS

FOREWORD

Sport today has become one of the main institutions of America. In one form or another its influence has gone into almost every American home. Naturally those who have helped to fill up this institution and those who through competition have helped make a good story of sport worth writing, have become interesting subjects to many millions. It is the purpose of "Who's Who In American Sports" to furnish all the important information concerning the leaders in every line, so that there will be a full record of their achievements.

Preface

WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN SPORTS presents the biographical sketches and records of four thousand men and women notable in the annals of athletics in the United States. The aim and purpose of this volume is as worthy as it is stupendous. The work of gathering and editing this data has required many months of painstaking labor and has been retarded by the natural and innate modesty of those whose sketches and records are herein presented.

Sports editors, college and high school coaches, athletic directors, alumni secretaries, in fact a veritable army of well-wishers and helpers, as well as the entire staff of the National Biographical Society set to work in the early summer of 1927 to compile a list of eligibles for this publication. At that time there were no available records suitable for presentation. More than 32,000 names were collected, arranged and classified. Questionnaires were sent to all of these, and over 12,000 responded with partial or complete data.

After careful consideration 4,000 sketches were approved for inclusion in this volume. The publishers realize that many sketches worthy of this distinction have been omitted. This is by no means an oversight, as it has been exceedingly difficult to trace and contact a large number who are not only eligible, but who are among the outstanding athletes of the nation. In a few instances we have given pictorial recognition without the accompanying sketches. As rapidly as these men and women can be reached, their names and records will be filed for future editions.

It is apparent that such a volume as WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN SPORTS required the co-operation of those high officials, coaches and writers whose knowledge of American athletics has made them specialists in their respective fields. The willingness with which many of these authorities responded to our request for assistance was most encouraging to the publishers, and the National Biographical Society takes this opportunity to extend its thanks to the following leaders of American athletics who have aided materially in the production of this Souvenir edition of WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN SPORTS:

Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, president American Olympic Committee.
Hon. Murray Hulbert, president A. A. U. of United States.
Gustavus T. Kirby, chairman Advisory Committee, I. C. A. A. A. A.
Dr. John J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education.
Dr. James Naismith, honorary chairman, National Joint Basketball Committee.
Samuel H. Collom, president, U. S. L. T. A.
Clark C. Griffith, president, Washington Baseball Club.
Charles L. Ornstein, member Executive Committee, American Olympic Committee.
Porter Adams, president, National Aeronautic Association.
Henry Penn Burke, president, National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.
C. Edward Beckett, member Y. M. C. A. Section of Joint Basketball Committee.
A. Y. Leech, Jr., Executive Committeeman, U. S. L. T. A.
Louis Little, director athletics, Georgetown University.
Lieut. Col. Nelson E. Margetts, chairman, Army Polo Committee.
Charles W. Paddock, journalist, lecturer and World's Sprint champion.
W. A. Rogers, vice-president, American Power Boat Association.
Fred McLeod, Professional Golf Association.

And the following sports writers: Warren Brown, Chicago; Harry Costello, Detroit, Mich.; Nick Flately, Boston, Mass.; James M. Gould, St. Louis, Mo.; Kirk Miller, Washington, D. C.; Lawrence Perry, New York City, N. Y.; Grantland Rice, New York City, N. Y.; Harry B. Smith, San Francisco, Cal., and Joseph Williams, New York City, N. Y.

The National Biographical Society realizes that this edition has fallen short of a complete coverage of the entire field of sports. Criticisms and ideas from the fraternity are cordially invited, and will be filed for future reference and incorporated in later editions. Certain deficiencies are apparent in this volume. A work as vast and detailed as this has involved months of correspondence, research and expense. Ommissions will be rectified as speedily as possible.

The names, records and sketches of thousands of American men and women are now on file. This list is being increased daily. Efforts are being continued to compile all information available along these lines. This data will be furnished upon request and without cost to any and all sports writers who are subscribers. The fraternity as a whole is also cordially invited to take advantage of this service.

Eligibility

Standards for "Who's Who in American Sports"

THE stamp of approval upon the eligibility requirements by the committee selected for that purpose has included practically all those whose meritorious achievements in the world of athletics warrented selection. The monumental task confronting the editor and the editorial advisory board was attacked with the knowledge that this first effort would fall short of complete coverage.

Any Official, Coach, Promoter, Manager, Trainer, Live Stock Owner, Patron or amateur or professional athlete participating in

Aquatic Sports	Canoe Racing	Motorcycle Racing	Skiing
Auto Racing	Coaching	Polo	Soccer
Aviation	Fencing	Pistol Shooting	Tennis
Balloon Racing	Fishing	Refereeing	Track and Field
Basketball	Football	Rifle shooting	Trap Shooting
Bicycle Racing	Golf	Rodeo Sports	Turf
Billiards	Hockey	Rowing	Wrestling
Bowling	Hunting	Rugby	Yachting
Boxing	Motor Boat Racing	Skating

is eligible for WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN SPORTS, providing he, or she, is qualified as follows:

1. Present or former official of the N. C. A. A., the U. S. L. T. A., the U. S. G. A., the P. G. A., the A. A. U., the Y. M. C. A. Athletic Council, Organized Baseball, American Breeders' Association, or any national organization promoting amateur or professional sports.
2. Present or former holder of a World's, International, National, League, Conference, Sectional, Divisional, or Intercollegiate record or championship.
3. Present or former member of team winning any of the above records or championships.
4. Present or former official, owner, coach or trainer of team, or individual, winning any of the above records or championships.
5. College athlete having won two or more "letters."
6. Present or former coach or "leading player" on any team sponsored by the N. C. A. A., the Y. M. C. A., and the A. A. U. (Only the star players on the above teams are eligible.)
7. Winner of National or International racing classic, trophy or prize by any water, air or land machine.
8. Present or former owner, trainer or rider of any horse winning prominent racing event, or establishing new record for its class and years.
9. Present or former owner, manager, trainer or member of "Big League" (professional) Baseball team.
10. Present or former owner or manager of "Minor League" (professional) Baseball team.
11. Leading sportsman whose individual exploits as big game hunter, explorer, et cetera, has won national or international distinction.
12. Patron who has contributed to the advancement of amateur and professional sports through his or her contributions of time and money.
13. Sporting editor or writer of national repute.

NOTE—Nominations will not be approved unless candidates meet one or more of above qualifications.

The Editorial Board of the National Biographical Society will gladly welcome the names or list of names of any and all athletes deemed worthy of inclusion in a later volume. From the vast lists of colleges, schools, athletic clubs, athletic associations, manuals and membership records there are no doubt many hundreds of persons whose achievements in sports warrant inclusion in a later volume or whose names and sketches should be in the files.

Questionnaires will be gladly sent upon application. Lists of names and addresses of leading athletes are desired. In helping to make future volumes more comprehensive, the co-operation of the fraternity is earnestly solicited. All institutions and individuals are asked to provide assistance in this worthy endeavor.

Special Notice

THE compilation of names for WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN SPORTS has been a most interesting and absorbing task as well as a difficult one. While twelve months have been spent in the effort, it is realized that four or five times that length of time might have been devoted before a hundred per cent completion could be obtained.

While various institutions have co-operated materially, the editor feels that the future will be productive of greater and better results.

In verifying, revising and editing these four thousand sketches and in checking the additional eight thousand names not included in this volume, a most amazing fund of information has been classified for future reference.

The editor will acknowledge thankfully the receipt of advice pertaining to errors, ommissions or misstatements.

It is felt that as we are becoming a nation of athletes and our children are following in our footsteps, we are becoming one great fraternity. To this end it will be greatly appreciated if further co-operation is extended by those who are interested in this vast subject.

THE EDITOR.

JOHNSON, WALTER, professional baseball. Born: Humboldt, Kansas, November 6, 1887.

Record: First played baseball with sandlot teams in California. 1906, initial professional engagement with the Tacoma (Washington) team of the Northwestern League; later joined Weiser (Idaho) semi-professional team. 1907-1927, pitcher, Washington, D. C. baseball team. Johnson is the only living ball player who has served 20 years with one major league club. Cobb was 22 years at Detroit, breaking the string of service by switching to Philadelphia. Cy Young had a span of 22 years but not with a single club. Most games pitched in one league, 784; most games won in one league, 411; most years leading in strikeouts, 12; most shutout games, 114; most consecutive shutout innings, 56; tied with Joe Wood for American League record of 16 straight victories; most years leading league in games won, 6 (tied with Grover Alexander, in National League). Established a world's pitching record by preventing his opponents from scoring one hundred and thirteen times. He also added an extra game for good measure by shutting out the Pirates in a world's series contest, making his lifetime record, 114. Has led his league twelve times, eight years in succession, as strike-out king.

LEWIS, ED "STRANGLER," world's champion wrestler. Born: Nekoosa, Wisconsin, August 10, 1893. Education: University of Kentucky.

Record: Lewis first won world's championship from Joe Stecher in New York, December 13, 1921. Defeated by Zbyszko. Regained title by defeating Zbyszko after three attempts. First time that a champion wrestler ever regained his title. Under management of Billy Sandow for 15 years. Holder of the $10,000 diamond championship wrestling belt. Dr. B. F. Roller, the famous physician-wrestler, made a statement a short time ago that he considered Lewis the most wonderful athlete of the day. He makes the flat statement that the Lewis headlock is the greatest hold ever developed in the wrestling game, and that no other wrestler can use it in the same way because they know nothing about it. There exists a tendency to treat wrestling merely as a sport demanding little else than bulk, coupled with brute strength. A greater mistake was never made. Wrestling is really an art which is capable of being brought to a very fine point, and in no sport is the mind forced to act quicker.

Present Occupation: Professional wrestler. Military Service: Sergeant, Camp Grant, Rockford, Illinois. Affiliations: Elks; Masons; Kansas City (Missouri) Athletic Club. Address: 1232 Stratford Road, Kansas City, Missouri.
